

Eunice Liefferink

Business & Executive Coach

"My purpose is to support you through this process by creating a safe space for self discovery and growth."

Experience

With more than 20 years of corporate experience in directing various teams and leaders in employee engagement, leadership training and coaching, Eunice is equipped with the skills and ability required to relate to the challenges that both leaders and organisations face when it comes to gaining commitment from the people they lead. Techniques that she applies to assist her clients are Genetic Brain Profiling, NLP (Neuro-Linguistics Programming) Coaching, Lewis Deep Democracy Conflict Resolution method and the Care & Growth Leadership Thematic. Eunice has worked across several industries, such as banking, insurance, retail and mining. From consultant to C-Suite, Eunice aims at engaging authentically with clients whilst building long term relationships of trust and contribution.

Coaching Approach

Eunice believes that coaching is a personal journey of discovery and self-mastery which happens when you are able to engage in a process of authenticity and courage. Her passion is to support her clients in their journey to set themselves free from limiting beliefs. Growth is never easy, it requires grit, resilience, and the ability to fail forward and apply self-care. Eunice believes her purpose is to support clients through this process by creating a safe space for self-discovery and growth.
