

Relationships at work

FRANCOIS LOMBARD

“

My approach to work is inspired by partnering with the human journey, whatever that looks like.

My biggest passion is found in supporting people during changing landscapes and empowering them on this authentic journey.

WORKING WITH LEADERS

Francois is a registered clinical & industrial psychologist with expertise found within the public and private sectors. His areas of focus include communication practice re-design, organisational design interventions, individual therapeutic interventions and the utilisation of psychometric assessments.
