

Francois Lombard

Executive & Business Coach

"My approach to work is inspired by partnering with the human journey, whatever that looks like. My biggest passion is found in supporting people during changing landscapes and empowering them on this authentic journey."

Experience

Francois is a qualified organisational psychologist with expertise in the private, consulting, and public sectors. His experience ranges from managerial executive coaching to personal enhancement. By incorporating the value of psychometric assessments, Francois partners with clients based on personal experience and individualised needs.

Coaching Approach

Francois makes use of a blended coaching model, incorporating elements of coaching (how I want to change), teaching (how I can manage change) and counselling (why I struggle to change). Making use of the Lewis Deep Democracy methodology as well Cognitive Behavioural Therapy principles, Francois aims to support clients in their journey towards personal fulfilment.
