

THANDIE BALFOUR

"I want to start conversations that matter the most to myself and the people around me."

Experience & Skills

Thandie has 21 years of experience in the field of human resources management and organisational development, where she has served in various capacities including recruitment, learning & development and change management. She has worked largely in the leadership development arena, focusing on designing and developing training programs.

Her interests lie in personal and leadership development, with a special focus on soft skills and personal mastery. She has been working as a coach and facilitator since 2013, partnering with established consultancies.

Thandie also has a qualification in performing arts (TV, film and theatre) and intends to infuse performing principles into the coaching and learning space.

Qualifications

- M.Arts Industrial Psychology
- Internationally Certified NLP Practitioner
- Accredited Trainer and Facilitator – Insight Discovery
- Certificate in Business Process Redesign